Every year, the International Bridge Racing Association selects a city with lots of bridges to host its annual Bridgetown Race. This year they have chosen Portland, Oregon USA.

During each round, players arrange for a transportation mode or special action of their choice. Then they move their racers through the streets, using bicycles, motorcycles, taxis, buses, automobiles, the street car and sometimes their own two feet, trying to cross each bridge and capture its flag. Be the first to capture a flag from every bridge and you win the race!

Bridgetown Races is a family-friendly game that can be played by younger players with adults, but the rules are written for adults.

"Bridgetown Races demands that you pay attention, and while it goes fast, you'll need a lot of brainpower to stay ahead. It is a lean, mean, fast-action racing game that's just a big fat pile of fun." ~~Matt Drake on DrakesFlames

"Bridgetown Races really provides the feeling of a sprint to the finish; lots of strategic options; great for the whole family; races are always tight and the game plays quickly." ~~Jeff McAleer on www.thegaminggang.com
